BENJ. REED DEAD AT POCAHONTAS

Was Pioneer Character in Early Days of "Smoky City"—No Benefit Noticed From Wage Increase to Miners.

Pocahontas, Va., Sept. 21.—The rise in wages to men in the mines has not so far been as beneficial as it would have been had it not been for the shompen's strike on the railroad. The shortage of cars makes it necessary that the mines be idle a large portion of the time, consequently the men are unable to work anything like full time. This condition will no doubt be remedied when the railroad strike is settled.

Ben Reed Dead.
Ben Reed, a well known citizen of this section died on Wednesday of last week and was buried at his father's old home on the mountain on Friday afternoon. He was 67 years of age. His wife and only child, a son, who preceded him to the grave. He is survived by one brother, W. Ed. Reed, of Independence, Mo., who reached here the day of the funeral. His estate, valued at $100,000 or more, will probably go to his brother Ed. The latter will remain at Pocahontas for a few days before returning to Missouri.

Ex-Soldier Killed in Mines.
Charles Hughes, a soldier in the great war was killed by a fall of slate in the Big Vein mines and a military funeral held on Friday afternoon under the direction of Capt. N. Clarence Smith. His funeral was held at the Presbyterian church, under the auspices of the Disciples congregation. Rev. W. R. Motley preached the sermon. A young man named F. P. Hancock, from North Carolina, who had been working with Hughes for three days was also killed at the same time. His remains were shipped to his home in N. C.

To Preach Farewell Sermon.
Rev. H. B. Brown, pastor of the Methodist Church at Graham, for four years, will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday morning next, prior to going to conference. Mr. and Mrs. Brown have won their way into the hearts of the people of the community, and the work under his leadership has been very successful. The best wishes of the entire community, irrespective of any denomination, go with the family wherever he may be sent to labor. Pastor M. O. Alexander will dismiss his congregation on Sunday morning in order to attend the farewell service of Rev. Brown.

NEWS OF POUNDING MILL.

Pounding Mill, Sept. 20.—Miss Olie Kate Gillespie is shopping and visiting relatives at friends in Tazewell.

Rev. Eubank, Tazewell, who has been holding a meeting in Christian church the past ten days will close his meeting tonight. Some have professed Christ and will probably be baptized tomorrow. His sermons have been excellent and put many to thinking no doubt.

Miss Jessie Gillespie, teacher in Tazewell High School spent the week end with her father, R. K. Gillespie, as family, and also Miss Mary Hurt, music teacher in same school. Mrs. W. B. Steele, as usual paid her weekly visit to her mother and sister, Mrs. Jane A. and Miss Pearl McGuire, Cedar Bluff.

Rev. W. E. Hughes, Graham, of the Episcopal church, filled his usual appointment here Sunday night, while Rev. Eubank filled his appointment in Tazewell.

John B. Gillespie and family received a letter from their sister, Mrs. John A. Wilson, Jr., (nee Miss Chuck Gillespie, postmarked Honolulu, dated Sept. 4, enroute to China where Mr. Wilson teaches in a big Episcopal school. They left Virginia about the 20th of August and sailed from San Francisco on the 2nd, having gone via Hattiesburg, Miss., and on to Gulfport, New Orleans thru Texas and Arizona, a four continuous days and nights journey. They were accompanied to China by his mother and brother.

Rev. French Wilson, Bluefield, Rev. John Peery, S. C., and Rev. T. W. Thompson, Chatham Hill, were here during the past week on their way to Chatham Hill, where they are holding a protracted meeting. Will probably hold meeting here soon.

Walker Ringstaff and F. M. Stampfer have "moved back to town."

HOLSTON ANNUAL CONFERENCE.
The Annual Conference meets September 27; and Rev. A. S. Ulm will preach his last sermon Sunday 11 a. m. at White church; 8:30 p. m. at Pleasant Hill. The pastor will appreciate the payment of all assessments at these services.

FROM REPUBLICAN COUNTY COMMITTEE.

(Advertisement)

Mr. Editor:
The position you took in the last issue of your paper in regard to registrars is eminently fair and proper, and you should be commended for your effort to maintain the high standard of this important office. During the past thirty years the registrars of Tazewell County have given general satisfaction, and we trust that this record will not be broken during the present campaign.

In Virginia all of the Judges of the Supreme Court of Appeals and all the Judges of the Circuit and County courts are democrats, and this has been for so many years, but, with the rarest exception these Judges have faithfully and impartially discharged the duties of their important offices regardless of politics. It would be a shock to the public conscience if a Judge of a Court should for partisan, political purposes, hinder or delay the trial of a case before him until such a time that a democratic litigant could recover judgment against a republican litigant by surprise, or otherwise obtain an unfair advantage in court because he is a democrat, or for the Judge to conspire with a democrat to what he should do in order to get an advantage in court over a republican.

The office of Registrar is as important as that of Judge, as the conduct of our elections is the foundation of our government. The oath that a Registrar takes is exactly the same as the oath taken by the Judge of a court, and is prescribed by Sec. 34 of the Constitution of Virginia. A Registrar is required to take an oath that he will faithfully and impartially discharge the duties of his office. Sec. 98 of the Code of Virginia enumerates certain duties of a Registrar, one of which is that a Registrar shall, at any time previous to the regular day of registration, register any voters entitled to vote at the next election who may apply to him to be registered.

A Registrar who hinders or delays a person from registering or refuses to give him an opportunity to register at any time as set forth in Sec. 98 of the Code of Virginia, or who registers a person not entitled to register, or who fails to register a person entitled to register, is guilty of a crime. A Judge of a court who fails to faithfully and impartially discharge his duties as Judge. While all registrars in Virginia are democrats, nevertheless it is their sworn duty to represent the people as a whole, faithfully and impartially, and not as partisans for the democratic party. Registrars are Judges in the fullest sense of the word.

There is an impression among some people that registrars are special representatives of the democratic organization to the care of the interest of the democratic party in a partisan way, and you are to be commended in your efforts to correct this erroneous impression, and to stand for the fair and impartial discharge of the duties of these important public offices, and to see that the high standard which has been maintained in Tazewell County for the past thirty years is not broken in the present campaign.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY COM.

In Defense of Cary Benbow.

Editor, Clinch Valley News:
There has come to our attention a remark made by Hon. Barnes Gillespie in his speech at Tazewell, Tuesday, September 12th, which, as it has reference to the point we are discussing, is as follows:

"Who was the registrar at Graham?" He sidestepped, and a man was put in his place that I do not know, but very little about personally, but one of the preachers of the town of Graham said that the decent women of the town wouldn't go before him to register. That may be a slander, I don't know; it may be a great injustice to this man."

Knowing Mr. Gillespie as we do, and without any intention of attacking his veracity (because he stated he was speaking from hearsay only), we feel that he will welcome a correction of some of his statements. Some of his statements may have formed on account of his reference to the registrars, who is our fellow-democrat Cary T. Benbow. Scores of Democratic and Republican women of this town have been to Mr. Benbow's office to register. Isn't the above statement quite a reflection on these good women? Let their fathers, husbands, and brothers answer.

To be very emphatic we wish to state publicly that we protest against any such attack on Mr. Benbow and that the remarks made about him are wholly false. S. N. Huffard, R. H. Palmer, E. G. White, H. B. Frazier, Kenneth C. Patty.

CIVIC LEAGUE TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT.

The Civic League will give an entertainment Monday night at the New Theatre. There will be a Marguerite Clark picture, also songs and recitations by the children of the lower grades of the school. The proceeds will be used to buy desks for the school. These are very much needed on account of over crowded conditions.

Every body come and have a good time and help in a good cause.

MEETING OF ODD FELLOWS.
There will be a district meeting of the Odd Fellows at Raven, Va., Sunday, Sept. 24. All Odd Fellows and the public are cordially invited. We will have all day meeting and a lecture by the Grand Master of Virginia. Come!

LAYMENS CLUB RAIDS BUCHANAN

By Courtesy of Lumber Company Richlands Organization is Enabled to Carry Tidings to Neighboring County.

Richlands, Va., Sept. 21.—By invitation an especial arrangement of the C. L. Ritter Lumber Co., the Laymans Club made another trip into Buchanan County Sunday, September 17th. About 20 members of the club and some of the good women and a great number of visitors about 75 in all left Doran at 8 a. m. for Whitewood. A beautiful September day, a jolly crowd and going on a great mission, made this a day long to be remembered by all who were fortunate enough to make this necessary trip.

Incidentally this train was named by some of the crowd the Gospel train, and glad we were that we were trying to carry earnestly the message to unsaved men and women. On reaching our destination, Whitewood at 11 a. m. found a great crowd of the citizens of the lumber camps and the surrounding community gathered for the services which was immediately started and the crowds came in such numbers that it was necessary to make a temporary seat in the aisle, and still the little church "in the wildwoods" could not accommodate the crowds.

The songs, prayers and talks by the members of the club were earnest and heart-touching in both morning and afternoon services. As the beautiful songs rang out in clear tones many times during the services, shouts of Amen! could be heard and the hearts of great stalwart men and women were melted to tears.

The power of the Divine seemed to permeate every heart and many dedicated a desire to know of a crucified Saviour love in their lives, the joy that comes to our hearts from scenes of this kind encourages us to do more faithful service and pray for a greater activity and far more laborers in the vineyard.

We can not express in words the kindness and the hospitality shown us by the good people at Whitewood and we all long for another opportunity to meet with them in a similar service. The good engineer and fireman who kindly made this trip possible were the recipients of a nice little sum donated to them by our crowd.

A LAYMAN.

CUTTIN' TOPS AND PULLIN' FODDER.

The editor regrets that absence from the office on Monday prevented greeting Mr. Lemon, of Roanoke, E. K. Crockett's son-in-law, when he called on Monday. Lemon is Secretary and Treasurer of the Merchants Retail Association, the Chamber of Commerce, or some other big concern, in his city, whatever it is could not run quite so well without him. He came originally from Botetourt, the son of Joel B. Lemon, who had a large family of boys and girls, all of whom did and are now doing well in different vocations in different parts of the country.

When he called on Monday the editor was at work cuttin' tops and pullin' fodder, a work, it is ventured, Lemon was not a stranger to in the old days ago. It was the custom in those days, to "top and blade" the corn, and while it gave a lot of nice feed it was a tedious job. There were no corn shredders, and the farmer didn't want the stalks bothering him.

The stalks were left standing in the field, and in the spring were cut down raked up and burned "out of the way." To turn the stalks under was not thought of. We have learned better now. But, the editor "reverted to type" on Monday, and partly for old time's sake, and partly because he didn't want the stalks, in the barn, many of them 16 feet tall and as large as saplings, and largely he topped and bladed one of his large patches of corn. He had his old friend, "Bill" Davis, to help. Bill said it had been at least 25 years since he had pulled fodder and cut tops, and so the editor had to show him the licks it was done with, and we both went to cut and finish his row as quickly as the editor finished his. Well, some one reading these lines will say, "I'll bet Bill Davis did most of the work."

Ask Bill. We tied the blades and tops, carried them out, and then shucked some shock previously cut in another patch, and each of us put in 8 hours steady work. Bill is a good one, but he might have been in that patch of corn until day after the next if the editor had not been along. He works just as well when you are with him as when you are not. Why all this personal gossip? Well, for one thing. With the changing years has come new modes of thought, new ways of doing things. In no direction has there been greater changes than in the methods of farming. But, are better men than then, or happier? Opinions differ.

ENOYABLE ALL-DAY OUTING.
One of the most enjoyable outings was had this week, when a picnic was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Mustard, recent bride and groom of Pocahontas, in Burke's Garden at the noted spring near the Meek residence. The spread consisted of good things, including some fine yellow watermelons, which came from the Backer estate, a millionaire of Damascus. Then the party enjoyed another feast in the evening at Ebenzer church.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Mustard, Miss Sue Peck, Messrs. Price Carter, O. K. Crockett and Crockett Leister, of Pocahontas; Mr. Lee Hunt, of Bluefield; Mrs. F. B. Leister, of Abingdon; Misses Donald Moore and Wyrene Leister and Mrs. Eliza Leister, of this city.

THOSE COURT HOUSE SPEECHES.

(Editorial.)

We have had opportunity to read stenographic reports of the speeches made at the court house here by Mr. Barnes Gillespie and Mr. Lou J. Summers. The addresses were, perhaps as good as could have been expected from the material at hand. Mr. Gillespie went back twenty years, to the days of the Constitutional Convention, "Bill Rhea," etc., and chewed over again the old rag of disfranchisement, spending almost his entire time in talking about state politics, and discussing not at all, or barely alluding the national issues, and the present administration, on the ground perhaps, that the least said is the soonest mended. The county registrars at least three places, Graham, Pocahontas and Richlands, had been so manipulated, Mr. Gillespie said, as to cheat Republicans out of their votes, etc. "Bill Rhea voted 120 dead men in Bristol."

Mr. Gillespie said that the family of Geo. C. Peery had voted against Republican nominees in this county, whereas, just the opposite, it is stated is true. For sheriff, clerks, treasurers and other county officers, and to the late Albert Gillespie for Constitutional convention, the Democrats voted almost solid. The phrase "I do not know" frequently occurred in this address and we think he was correct in this.

A little side remark as to Geo. C. Peery's height was this: "Mr. Peery is a tall man, and when he walks naturally he has the plane of his vision is pretty high" looking over, it is implied, the heads or ordinary people, with his eyes on the Capitol at Washington. He might have told his audience, as he undertook to speak of statues, that Mr. Hassenberger is a very low, small man, and on the same principle, unable to see beyond the things that shut out his vision of the Capitol at Washington.

Mr. Summers talked tariff, the one issue which has knocked the Republican party "out of the water", at least three times.

Somebody remarked, that "if the Democrats will keep these two speakers on the wire Peery's election is assured."

MRS. CHARLES ROBERT BROWN.

A TRIBUTE.

(Communicated.)
With the passing of Mrs. Charles Robert Brown the deep impression made upon the community by her life is but more clearly revealed and felt.

The release came Thursday, Sept. 14, at her home, with husband, son and the two daughters at the bedside. A sister, Mrs. Shanklin, of Marion, Va., Mr. Edward Cooper, a brother, and Mrs. Thomas, a sister, both of Bramwell, W. Va., were present. Two sisters, one living in Montana and one in Columbus, Ohio were unable to come. Mrs. Brown's father, a brother, and seven infant children were waiting for her on the other side.

All the ministry of love could but soothe her pillow of pain. All that skilled and faithful physicians had failed to hold the spirit that struggled to be free. Weeks before the end she heard the one clear call, and as the approach of the boat that was to carry her across the bar, she was calm and unafraid, feeling regret only for those she loved and was leaving awhile.

How the light that flashes through the pearly gates when they open to receive one of God's children, clears our vision and shows what a Christian-like life means to our world! How humble and wordless we stand in the presence of the revelation.

Truly as her Master walked the earth with dignity through grace so did she follow in His footsteps. No by-paths allured her, no words of strange doctrines turned her aside. Serene in her faith, she met the obligations of every phase of home, church and community life cheerfully, giving herself in generous love and service.

With brave fortitude she accepted the afflictions and sorrows of life that are a common heritage. The law of kindness was on her lips, and modest but unfaltering truth adorned her speech. Such a character stabilizes society, and helps to keep this turbulent old world balanced.

We who know and love her are thankful that her path came this way, and that our lives feel the touch of hers. We know that the torch she carried will never go out. It seems to shine in the majestic evening star that rises above the shadowed hill tops to guide our stumbling footsteps along dim trails, and cheer us with the promise that bright sun passes and joy comes in the morning.

Resolutions.

Whereas, Mrs. Sallie Cooper Brown passed from a life of activity here into her haven of rest Sept. 14th at Tazewell, Va.; and whereas she was a loyal member of the Tazewell Woman's Christian Temperance Union, we, the members of that organization do hereby resolve:

That we grieve for our loss, but rejoice in the happiness of her new life, and submit to God's will with the hope of meeting her again.

That we could have no example more worthy of imitation than hers, and that we shall seek to follow in the way she led.

That our deepest sympathy is extended to the family and friends of Mrs. Brown.

That a copy of these resolutions be published in the Clinch Valley News, a copy sent to the stricken family and that they be recorded in the minutes of the Tazewell W. C. T. U.—Mrs. Charles T. Peery, Mrs. A. S. Ulm, Mrs. Sallie Harrison.

CIVIC LEAGUE TO HOLD SALE.

The Ways and Means Committee of the Civic League will sell pies and sandwiches in the Court House yard Saturday evening.

SOLDIER BONUS KILLED BY VETO

Senate Sustain President Harding in Burying for the Present Measure Intended as Aid to Ex-Service Men.

The Senate, after passing the bonus bill sustains President Harding's veto of the bill, by a vote of 44 to 28, four votes less than enough to override the veto. The Senate knew, as did also the House, that the bill would be vetoed. The President is being made the cat's-paw of the politicians whose election comes up this fall. Such political manipulation will prove to be a Damascus blade, cutting both ways, going and coming.

The President's main reason, as given, was that the bill carried no provisions for raising the billions necessary to pay the bonus, and his veto was wise, and will be approved, by a large majority of the tax-payers already burdened with taxation. If Mr. Harding will veto the iniquitous tariff bill, which will come before him at once he will perform another popular act.

DEATH OF LITTLE CHILD.

Cedar Bluff, Sept. 21.—A marriage occurred last Sunday afternoon at the home of Brother Linkous when Mr. James Fields and Miss Bertha White, both young people of this city, appeared before Brother Linkous and requested the ceremony. Monday a large number of relatives and friends ate the wedding dinner at the home of the groom's father. Congratulations to the happy couple! Many friends of the late Susan Lambert Beavers attended the funeral services last Friday at the home of Mrs. Chas. Henkle. Rev. Kern and Rev. Linkous officiated and her remains were laid away at the family burying ground in the Shiloh Waters.

Miss Helen McGuire has recently been visiting in Norfolk, Washington and other places. We note her return to her home.

Mrs. Jim Riley of Charleston, W. Va., is visiting her mother, Mrs. T. A. Repass. She expects to make an extended visit while here.

Miss Ella Shrader and Miss Virna Lambert and Miss Irene Lambert, who are attending high school here, spent the week end at their homes.

Mrs. B. M. Davidson, of Rocky Gap, Va., is spending a few days with Prof. and Mrs. P. E. Goodman. Miss Mayo Hurt spent the week end with friends at Hansonville.

A little baby winged its way into the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hall on last Sabbath day. After lingering on earth but a few fleeting hours it was called away. Rev. W. W. Arrowood, of Tazewell, was in charge of the service. Our sorrows share with those of the young parents who are bereft of their first little darling.

With the coming of the next Sabbath Day the Methodist Church closes its annual calendar year. The Cedar Bluff charges goes to Conference this year with all its obligations met—at least this is the promise of the officials. Next Saturday afternoon when the Quarterly Conference convenes we will know if this promise is realized. To crown the good that the circuit has enjoyed the pastor has planned an old time quarterly meeting. Friday is Fast Day, and will be closed with a prayer meeting at the church. Saturday morning there will be preaching at 10:30 A. M. so at 3 p. m. which services will be followed by a business session of the conference. Saturday night there will be a sermon, the service concluding with the Communion of the Lord's Supper. Sunday morning at 6 o'clock a Sunrise Prayer Meeting, Love Feast at 9:30, and the quarterly conference closes with the morning sermon at 11 o'clock. Rev. Hugh E. Keiser, the Presiding Elder, will preach. I also will be assisted by other ministers. It is anticipated that this will be an occasion to be remembered.

SUSAN LAMBERT BEAVERS.

Cedar Bluff, Sept. 21.—Susan Lambert Beavers was born June 16th, 1844 in McDowell County, West Virginia. She was married 1860 to Jackson Beavers. To this union was born thirteen children, of whom six survive their mother. They are, Henry C. Beavers, of Lager, W. Va.; Frank of Bandy, J. P. of War, W. Va.; D. H. of Norfolk; Mrs. Chas. Henkle, and Miss Grace Beavers, Bandy, Va. Besides her own family she leaves to mourn her, one brother, two sisters, two half-brothers, two half-sisters, thirty-nine grandchildren, and nineteen great grand children, many other relatives and friends.

Aunt Susan as we loved to call her, was a lifelong Christian, having been converted at the age of sixteen. She united with the Southern Methodist Church and continued in good fellowship unto the last. For the last three years she was a complete invalid, suffering very acutely but sweet, serene spirit thru it all. During this time she was attended by her youngest daughter, Miss Grace, and Mrs. Chas. Henkle.

On Wednesday night, September 14th, about midnight her spirit slipped out into the great eternal world. She had long looked for this moment, her faith was clear unto the last, and she went fearlessly on into the new life. Funeral services were conducted at the Henkle home. Rev. Kern in charge, assisted by Revs. Linkous, Hampton, Vernon and Osborne. She was laid away in the family burying ground.

OFF TO FLORIDA.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Thompson left on Tuesday for Florida, with Rev. and Mrs. Buhrman, for the winter.
